TELEGRAMS
TO STANDARD.

By direct cables via Lisbon.

Madrid, 22nd—The crisis that was partially staved off by Canovas is now inevitable and the resignation of three of the Ministers is considered certain before or after the opening of the Cortes on December 5th.

Berlin, 22nd—In spite of the opposition to the Military Bill in the Landtag it is likely to be passed.

Brussels, 22nd—The Monetary Conference was opened to-day. There are over 50 delegates, 6 from North America, the rest from all the nations of Europe.

Montefiori-Levi, Belgian delegate, has been elected President.

The United States delegates have postponed till Friday the discussion of their proposals about silver.

The Italian delegates were thinking of proposing that each State should only accept its own silver coin, but they have abandoned the idea at the instance of the French and Belgian delegates.

London, 22nd—The local authorities are about to take steps to stop pauper immigration

Rome, 22nd—The Opposition will raise a question about the electoral abuses by Government when Parliament opens.

The Government is trying to avoid this by preparing the Budget, so that it may have priority of discussion.

Lisbon, 22nd—The Portuguese delegate has returned from Madrid without having signed the commercial treaty.

The British Squadron have not entered the Tagus, fearing some insult from the mob, in spite of the assurance by the authorities that any such thing would be promptly suppressed and punished.

Paris, 22nd—The nurses in the hospitals threaten to strike in case one of them who refused to salute a Councillor is punished.

Berlin, 22nd—The Emperor has opened the Reichstag, referring in his speech to the good foreign relations with all Powers, and the security for peace afforded by the Triple Alliance.

He says Germany must increase her armaments because other countries are doing so, and appeals to the patriotism of the Deputies to pass the military and financial Bills.

Paris, 22nd—Ferdinand and Charles Lesseps, Fontane and Eiffel have been summoned to appear on Friday to answer charges of fraud in connection with the Panama Company.

(Per Havas Agency.)

Berlin' 22d—General Werder has been named German Ambassador in St. Petersburg.

The Reichstag has just been opened. The Imperial speech announces the presentation shortly of the Military Bill, and another to tax beer, spirits, and Stock Exchange transactions.

Paris, 22nd—The populace have received the news of the capture of Abomey with great jubilation. A telegram announcing the capture of the fugitive King Behauzin is hourly expected.

(To the "Prensa".)

London, 21st.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says there is good reason for thinking that Italy will withdraw from the Triple Alliance.

There is every probability of the cotton operatives' strike being definitely settled, as the men are inclined to accept less wages for less work.

The Paris correspondent of the Standard says that M. Arton, former agent of the Panama Company, who disappeared some months ago owing to a defalcation in his accounts with the Dynamite Company, has returned to Paris. He is said to hold proofs that the Company gave heavy subventions to the Press.

Brussels, 21st.—The U. S. Minister will give a grand reception to-morrow to the delegates to the Monetary Congress.

Cardiff, 21st.—The loss by the burning down of the Exchange and offices of the Bute Docks here is set down at £65,000.

Paris, 21st.—The Banque de Paris et Pays Bas has advanced the Spanish Government 25 millions of francs, which makes a total of 75 millions which it has lent to said Government. Rothschild has called on Spain to pay what she owes him, 4000 millions of francs, and the bankruptcy of the Spanish Treasury is at hand.

Baron Reynach has left a fortune of 75 millions of francs.

Lisbon, 21st.—The refusal of the Portuguese Government to allow the British fleet to enter the Tagus has given rise to some unpleasantness between the two countries.

THE PROTECTION MANIA.

PROTEST OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Between the Bateman Legacy and the import duties life in Buenos Ayres is heavily handicapped. We have done our best in the last twenty years to protect public interests, and if we have failed it is because the public took little heed of our warning. At the eleventh hour the Chamber of Commerce has awakened from its lengthened slumber, and put forward a milk-and-water protest against the ever-increasing import-duties, but we feel convinced that Congress will treat the protest with the contempt which so feeble a body of gentlemen deserves. Nevertheless it may amuse some of our readers, and hence we make room for this document:

Nov. 21st, 1892.

As the Senate is now about to take up the Customs Law for 1893 the Chamber of Commerce requests me to protest against the 40 per cent duties levied on many articles that cannot be produced in the country, since we have not the raw material.

Moreover it is our duty to point out to you that the duty of 25 per cent on certain articles is made to come out much more by the exaggerated valuation put on goods. For example stockings are valued at 2$ gold per kilo, and are thus made to pay not 25, but 77, per cent. Hats pay from 166 to 200 per cent. In a word articles of prime necessity are taxed so enormously as to press severely on the working-classes. Under the pretext of supporting home production you have imposed tremendous duties on wine, alcohol, sugar, paper etc. As a consequence you have succeeded in ruining some branches of import trade, which have now wholly disappeared from our trade returns.

We do not wish to fatigue the Hon. Senate by a further recital of grievances, but offer you the assurance of our profound esteem, and hope that Heaven may preserve you many years.

A. Marcó del Pont, president.
M. Maldonado, secretary.

Milk-and-water language of the above description is of no use on an occasion like the present. The Senate will assuredly snub the Chamber of Commerce, and the oppressive duties will be increased year by year, until a spokesman who can more vigorously express himself in the Castilian language than, Mr. Del Pont, comes forward to defend the public interests.

RIVER PLATE STOCKS.

On Nov. 14th 1890 the Baring crisis occurred, and now, after a lapse of two years, it is interesting to compare the quotations of River Plate securities, as in the following table:—

	Nov. '90	Nov. 91	Nov. 92
Loan of 1881	98	45	55
,, 1884	80	31	45
,, 1886	81	60	72
4½ p. cents...	70	27	40
B. Ayres....	90	30	36
Cordoba.....	68	20	20
Santa Fe. ...	80	23	25
Paraguay ...	44	22	20
Uruguay ...	67	34	39

It will be seen that in Argentine national stocks there has been a great recovery: not so in the securities of the Argentine Provinces, or of those of Uruguay or Paraguay. The mean quotations of Argentine loans and that of all River Plate securities were as follows:

	Argentine	R. Plate
1890...	82	75
1891..	41	32
1892...	53	39

Thus we find that whereas all River Plate stocks collectively have fallen nearly 50 per cent the decline in Argentine (national) loans is only 35 per cent.

The joint influence of the Bank of England, the Times newspaper and the Barings has succeeded in unloading millions of the securities held by the Barings, but it is clear that Messrs. Rothschild and Lidderdale took over some of the securities at a figure much above their market value. They admit having taken Uruguays at 50, and these are now difficult to sell at 39.

Many of the London papers speak of the present boom in Argentines as if they thought the prices now current phenomenal. But it must be remembered that there is an enormous amount of disposable capital in London, and that capitalists are at their wits' ends how to get 3 per cent for their money. Great Britain accumulates 200 millions sterling per annum, one half of which heretofore went in making railways all over the world. The construction of railways is now nearly at a close, and in the absence of better fields for investment it is likely English capital will still flow into River Plate loans and enterprises.

LATEST FROM MONTEVIDEO

Tuesday.

The Legislative Committee are still studying the Budget. It is thought they will introduce many important amendments. The reduction of the salaries of the legislators is a foregone conclusion.

The War Minister is on the frontier with a cavalry detachment. The Brazilian refugees are quiet. No disturbances are reported.

A picture exhibition will be opened here next month, many leading families having already promised to lend the chef d'œuvres that grace their drawing-rooms.

Advices from Rio Grande report great excitement in view of the elections for the renewal of the President of the State and the Legislature. At Livramento the authorities seized all firearms found in the houses of citizens. There are 1,300 armed men in Livramento. The elections were carred by the Castillistas, Castillo being elected. The Federalistas refrained from voting.

The Riograndense refugee, Francisco da Silva Tavares, writes to the papers this morning contradicting the reports of Federalista encampments on the frontier. Mr. Tavares says that what has given rise to these rumours is simply this: there is a strong current of emigration from Rio Grande, and he calculates that no less than 15,000 people have crossed the frontier. Telegrams from Rio Grande state that General Tavares and Col. Guerreiro are hidden on the frontier.

Judge Martinez yesterday decided the case between the Buela "concurso" and Gianelli, representative of the Banco Popular de Rio Janeiro. The Judge has decided that Gianelli is not authorized to prosecute the case.

Murmurs of revolutionary movements preparing have served to keep the public amused lastweek. We hardly think there is any real ground for these rumours.

The grand bathing establishment opposite the National Hotel has attracted many visitors during the past week, the regular summer weather with which we have been favoured no doubt acting as a stimulant in this direction.

The locusts have appeared in Nueva Palmira but are being slaughtered right and left by the estancieros.

It appears that a North American squadron is forming at San Francisco under the command of Admiral Bancroft E, Gherardi to leave shortly from that port for the east coast of the United States, passing down the West Coast of South America round Cape Horn and up this coast, and calling at all the various South American States en route. The squadron will make a slow journey of it as they are only to arrive at Hampton Roads in January or February. They are expected at New York to take part in the international naval review to be held there towards the end of 1893. The squadron will be composed of the Baltimore, captain W. R. Bridman, the Charleston, captain B. J. Picking, the San Francisco, captain J. C. Watson, the Boston, captain J. C. Wiltze, and the Yorktown, captain R. Evans It is however doubtful whether the last mentioned vessel will arrive at San Francisco in time to accompany the others, she bring at present in the Behring Sea.

THE PARAGUAYAN RAILWAY.

MESSAGE FROM THE HOUSE OF DEPUTIES TO THE GOVERNMENT.

Asuncion, Oct. 6th.

The Chamber of Deputies has informed itself of the antecedents which it has received about the Railway, and, notwithstanding that they are not yet found complete, it has been now able to make clear the following points:

1st. That the Railway Company has no legal status, because, in this city which according to Law, is that of its domicile, the directorate which it ought to have is not constituted.

The Executive also has acknowledged it in a note sent about a year ago to the manager of the Railway, but no measure has been taken with regard to it.

2nd. It is evident at least that they have not complied with the Law, with reference to the telegraph, for it is public and notorious that up to to-day there is only one wire.

3rd. They have also failed to comply with the supplementary law, for they have not made the repairs which ought to have been made on the old line.

4th. The Government cannot admit that they (the Company) collect the guarantee on the shares which exclusively belong to it, nor pay it for the new line (the extension) taking for basis the cost of $30,000 gold per kilometre; for the 8th article of the law only marks that quantity as a maximum, and it is known that the Company has not paid more than barely $22,000 gold per kilometre.

The agreement, therefore, which was made in respect of the one and of the other cannot be admitted without defrauding the interests of the state.

5th. It is also known that the Company has issued Debentures for a greater sum than that which corresponds to the present state of the works, without shewing how it has been applied; and that the balance which remains to be issued is insufficient for the payment of the works which have to be made from Pirapo to the town of Encarnacion.

6th. The Government ought to have protested against the issue of Debentures on the hypothesis that, through it, the shares which the Government has in the Company might lose the preference.

7th. It results that the Company was filling the books contrary to the rules of the Commercial Code with occultation of entries which belonged to the credit of the Government, incurring in other inexactitudes equally culpable, owing to which the Government decreed the arbitration fixed by the law on the matter. This decree was afterwards revoked by Government itself, but the Chamber finds no reason to justify that revocation, and it is of opinion that the arbitration should be carried into effect, chiefly because the Company has taken judicial steps which amount to preliminaries of liquidation.

8th. It is also evident that the want of rolling-stock does not allow the line to give all the return which it ought to give, and that the existing stock suffers undue deterioration for want of shelter, and the repairs come out dear for want of a good workshop. To these we have to add that the basis of the calculations of the Government, on making the concession, was the important traffic which the line would have when it arrived at Encarnacion; a calculation which is now without any basis, because the line has stopped at Pirapo to the detriment of the interests of the State and against the express provision of the law of the Concession, which establishes that it should continue without interruption.

9th. Without the faults which are pointed out the guarantee should be paid because the credit of the State was engaged in it; but with these faults the guarantee should not be paid so long as they are unrepaired, because the contract entered into is binding on both parties, and in that sense the Company cannot pretend that the Government fulfil it and the Company not to ful it.

10th. This accummulation of charges which result against the Company, and the want of status which has been already pointed out, ought to have induced the Government before now to take legal measures which might protect the interests of the State and those of the creditors of the Company, since the latter is subject to the legislation of Paraguay.

11th. The suspension of the payment of the guarantee will not be imputed to the Government but to the Directors of the Company in London, who by an abuse of their character and by extralimitation of their attributes manipulate in an arbitrary manner the Company's interests to the prejudice of the State and of the creditors of the Company.

12th. The Government ought not to permit that its representative in London be appointed Director, because these two appointments are incompatible.

The Chamber limits itself to put in evidence these points from the pressure of time and from insufficiency of the antecedents which the Executive has supplied to it, and it postpones the full and extensive study of the question for the next legislative period, in which, with more abundant antecedents, it will adopt the measures of rigour which the bad management of the railway requires, and the abuses that are committed in it, if by that time the Executive has not remedied those wrongs.

At all events from this brief exposition it follows that the State ought not to pay a dollar of the guarantee whilst they do not give clear accounts, for there are reasons to believe that the Company is at present owing the Government sums from various sources, among which the difference of $8,000 gold per kilometer in the works between Villa Rica and Pirapó.

It also follows that having absorbed, without knowing in what, a quantity of Debenture Stock greater than what correspond to the works carried out, the Company is in want of capital for the prolongation to the town of Encarnacion, owing to which it cannot fulfil the contract, thereby losing the right of asking for payment of the guarantee, which would also unfortunately result to the prejudice of the Government, because the shares which it has in the Company will lose almost all their value.

Under these considerations it is indubitable that the contract "ad referendum," which was sent to this Chamber signed by the Executive and Mr. White, has no other object in view than that of saving the interests of the Company without any profit to the State, but even to its prejudice, because the extension of time for the conclusion of the line delays the progress of an important region of the Republic.

It is to be regretted that the Executive has studied with so much carelessness such a delicate point, and that it has endangered the seriousness and the credit of the State with that contract "ad referendum" which the Chamber in its sitting of to-day has rejected in all its parts.

The Executive will please remit to this Chamber on the 1st April 1893 all the other data which are in its offices referring to "The Paraguayan Central Railway Co. Limited," and those which it may acquire during that interval of time, and, above all, the general detailed account for the purposes concerned.

For this object we salute Y. E. with our most distinguished consideration.

(Signed)
José Irala, Z. Samaniego, Remigio Mazó, Angel M. Martinez, Rufino Mazó.

THE "TIMES" ON ARGENTINE FINANCE.

The Times of 18th Oct. publishes the following leading article:—

Nearly two years have elapsed since the collapse of Messrs. Baring Brothers and the commencement of the three years' moratorium granted to the Argentine Goverment. During these two years fair progress has been made with the process of realizing the assets of Messrs. Baring and liquidating their liabilities, but the amount still unsold is considerable. It was not to be expected that this difficult business could go on much faster than it has, though from time to time surprise has been expressed that it has not been completed more rapidly. The fact is that many people failed to perceive the real magnitude of the disaster which was only just avoided in November, 1890, and also misunderstood the effect of the measures adopted to prevent the catastrophe. Those measures were thoroughly effective for the purpose which their framers had in view —namely, the provision of funds for meeting as they became due the enormous mass of bills for which Messrs. Baring were responsible. Time was thus given for realizing the assets of the firm, which at the date of the breakdown of credit, and for a long while afterwards, were quite unsaleable. When the transfer of the Buenos Ayres Water and Drainage Works to the Argentine Government is finally carried out, which it will be very shortly, and the Government bonds that are to be issued in exchange are in the hands of the shareholders, a further portion of the Baring estate will be rendered "liquid," and the liability of the firm to the Bank of England may perhaps be reduced to an amount with which it will be possible to deal in some more rapid manner than the gradual sale of the securities remaining unrealized. This is the end towards which all parties concerned have been working, and it now appears to be within a measurable distance of accomplishment.

The recovery of prosperity in Argentine though not perhaps so great as some people would like it to be supposed, is real and appreciable. The exports have steadily expanded, and this is an important matter for the country's creditors, for the real source whence provision for foreign debts must ultimately be derived is a large export trade. The railway traffic has expanded, and the traffic receipts have increased in a greater proportion than the traffic because the premium on gold at which dollars are converted into sterling has fallen greatly during the current year. From the point of view of foreign creditors of Argentina this fall in the gold premium is more important than anything else, since not only is it a symptom of increasing commercial confidence and enterprise, but it directly facilitates the payment of sums due in countries which have a gold standard. At the same time it is not desirable that the reduction in the premium should go on very fast, as many people would be ruined thereby. All changes in the standard of value are in themselves bad, but the mischief they do is greatly mitigated if they take place gradually. But a reduction in the Argentine gold premium was absolutely necessary unless the country was to default on the greater part of its foreign debt, a result which no sensible and patriotic Argentine could regard without alarm. There is litle doubt that the very high level to which the premium rose at one time was due to sheer discredit, for if that element had not existed the actual over-issues of paper might have been kept in circulation at a comparatively moderate discount; that is, gold would only have gone to a moderate premium. But, with what Carlyle calls "the haggard element of fear" superadded, the incautious or corrupt over-issues of notes all over the Republic resulted in reducing their value in the market to less than a quarter of their nominal value. It may be reasonably hoped that during the next few months the premium will continue gradually to fall and that the position of all who have to send money to Europe will be improved in consequence.

We are rather doubtful of the advantage of discussing what course events may take at the end of the moratorium, which expires at the end of next year, but as a certain amount of discussion on the subject has actually taken place, and some unwise suggestions have been made, we cannot altogether avoid the topic. It is assumed, perhaps not unreasonably, that a fresh arrangement of some kind will have to be made at the end of 1893; in other words, that the gold premium will not have fallen sufficiently to admit of the Argentine Government paying the interest on all its loans in full. Possibly this may be so, but the suggestion that has been made in some quarters that the two loans having special hypothecations should be treated in the same manner as those having none is a very mischievous one. The attempt to maintain that there never was any such hypothecation at all is absurd, as is shown in our City Article to-day by reference to the bond. It implies that the granting of the customs receipts as a security for the payment of interest was an empty form, and no doubt the view taken on this matter is one of the bad results which we foresaw as a consequence of the Uruguayan debt arrangement of last year. But in the case of Argentina we do not believe that an attempt to induce the Government to set aside the special hypothecations would be successful, for reasons which are tolerably evident to any one acquainted with the situation. The Government may find it necessary to revise its relations with those railway companies which are in possession of financial guarantees, and, so far as we can learn, the companies are ready to meet the Government on the basis of commuting the annual value of the subsidies now payable for lump sums. In any case, we believe that the new Government of Argentina will show itself honourably anxious to aid in restoring the national prosperity and credit in all possible ways; but no wise person will lose sight of the fact that, in spite of theories which are just now much in vogue even among educated men, the modes in which Governments can add to a country's economic welfare are very few and of narrow application, while the ways in which they can do harm are numerous. A country's credit is to a large extent in the hands of its Government, and one Administration like that presided over by Dr. Celman can do more to damage national credit than two or three good Administrations can effect to improve it. It has been suggested that the Federal Government should, in some undefined manner, aid the provinces to deal with their financial difficulties, but the best way to help them would be for the Government to resume payment in cash of its own liabilities—a course which would tend indirectly to raise the credit of Argentine issues of every kind. This may, perhaps, be a counsel of perfection, but it is what Argentine statesmen should aim at.

Ed. Note.—When the Times says that "a large export trade constitutes the real source of providing for the foreign debt" it shews that the editorship of that paper has fallen into strange hands. There is as much connection between the two things as between Buffalo Bill and the snow-fall in the Cordillera.

CONDITION OF SANTOS.

WARNING TO SHIP-MASTERS.

We are indebted to Captain Froud, the secretary of the Ship-masters' Society of London, for the following extract from a letter received yesterday from a correspondent at Santos:—

"Things in Santos are as black as ever and my predictions are coming true. Ship are arriving every day with no prospect of their being discharged for the next 12 months. A ship which entered in October, last year, was, last week, No. 17 on the list for a berth at the railway wharf. Yellow Jack has never quite disappeared, and it is expected the epidemic will break out again in full force soon. The railway company are doing nothing, or next to it, as regards the coming rush, owing to some question with the government about paying for improvements and guaranteeing concessions to other companies. Merchants have been holding meetings and making suggestions, but what can they do when the single line of railway is quite inadequate for the traffic? There has been rather a pretty case going through the law courts of demurrage between a Russia barque and a local merchant. It has gone through all the courts with varying successes. At last the captain got the verdict in the Supreme Court, the merchants having to pay the two years' demurrage and the value of ship at the date of arrival (she being useless now, owing to worms, etc). Now that the case has at last been decided the friends and relatives of all those of the crew who have died of yellow fever (all but one) are bringing actions against the merchants for damages. The result is being watched for with interest, as if the court in this case make the merchants (which it actually the ship) liable, it will cause quite a revolution in shipping matters, and a great number of cases will surely follow. Insurance companies at home should be cautious how they take risks of Brazilian vessels, as the government compel all men sailing in the merchant service to pass examinations, but do not inquire who the men are. The examination is one that any one with a knowledge of the language can pass, whether they have been at sea or not. We have had a case of a steward passing, and going as captain for his first voyage on deck. In another instance a clerk obtained his certificate, and went off as mate of a steamer. With such men in charge can you wonder at the number of accidents we have had on the coast this winter. I am glad to say not a single accident has occurred on board ships commanded by Englishmen."—Lloyd's List.

BRAZILIAN FINANCES.

FOOLISH INCREASE OF TAXES.

Rio, Oct. 25th.

The financial situation is still full of uncertainty. If we could be sure that Congress would act intelligently on the banks of issue question and that the minister of finance would be content to let a subject alone of which he knows less than nothing, then it would be possible to predict a steady recovery from this time forward. Unfortunately, however, there are in Congress too many conflicting interests and too little appreciation of the gravity of the situation to warrant an expectation of sound legislation. The average congressman can not be made to see that a radical financial evil can not be cured by a mere act of parliament; in his eyes the "let it be proclaimed" of Congress is enough to solve every question, whether social, economic or financial. If he makes a mistake, he invariably insists on forcing a solution by going ahead, instead of retracing his steps. Under these conditions, we can really hope for very little relief from Congress; the best promise for the future lies in its doing nothing. So, too, with the minister of finance; If he could be induced to follow the example of his predecessor, all would be well. But he insists on talking and on inventing remedies, and he will inevitably fall into a labyrinth of confusion from which there will be no honorable escape. A minister who openly accuses certain foreign banks of being the cause of exchange speculations, and who sees safely for the country in the union of union of two practically bankrupt corporations, is certainly not a safe leader in an emergency like this. The situation is most critical, and it needs a serious man of business to guide the country through it. Is it not possible to find such a man?

The manifest disposition of Congress to meet the deficit by increasing taxation is a very serious mistake. If taxes were low, then it conld be calculated with some degree of certainty that such a percentage of increase would produce a corresponding increase in the revenue; but in view of the fact that taxes are burdensomely high and that the country is in no condition to meet any considerable addition to the costs of living, such an additional percentage is certain to produce the very contrary result. Excessive taxation on any article which the people can do without is sure to lead to its steady disappearance from the market; and in cases where the people can not do without it, either a restricted consumption or a deterioration in quality is sure to follow. This has been proved over and over again in every part of the world, and it has many times been the result here in Brazil. It occurs therefore that a reduction of duties often leads to an increased revenue, simply because the lower cost of the article brings it within the reach of a greater number of consumers. In our opinion, Congress is making a very serious mistake in trying to meet the budget deficit by increasing the import and stamp taxes. These measures may produce an increase in the revenue receipts, but it will be achieved at a cost which the country can not well afford. The tendency in Brazil has invariably been to tax the necessaries of life, and this, is should be remembered, is a tax on life itself when the rates pass a certain limit. The estates of the rich planters are still untaxed, and so are many of their sources of income. If necessary, let higher taxes be levied on the luxuries of life, on plate, carriages, wines, carriage and racing horses, and all that, but let the necessities of the poor, their food and clothing, remain untouched. It would be better, on the contrary, to reduce all these taxes, for we are certain that the revenue would not suffer the loss of a milreis by the concession. If, then, there still remains a deficit to meet, let the expenditures be cut down with the army and navy, with public improvements and guarantees, with salaries and pensions, and with a score of other unnecessary and over-estimated services. The true cause of the deficit is excessive and wasteful expenditures, and the cure will be found in abolishing them.—Rio News.

ITEMS OF INTEREST FROM CHICAGO.

Director-General Davis has asked the States Department at Washington to make public the following ruling regarding the placarding of goods at the Exposition: "Foreign exhibitors in the World's Columbian Exposition will be permitted to state upon placards attached to their exhibits the prices at which said products will be sold at the place of manufacture, and also the prices in bond and out of bond, or exclusive and inclusive of the customs duties in Chicago."

The following schedule of allotments of space in square feet to foreign nations in the World's Fair agricultural building, includes grants of increase made since the first schedule of allotment determined upon some time ago. As finally fixed these allotments are as follows:—

Brazil	7,200
Argentina	2,976
Chile	731
Honduras	999
Nicaragua	1,180
Columbia	1,810½
Peru	1,342½
Salvador	1,342½
Bolivia	1,342½
San Domingo	912
Porto Rico	912
Cuba	1,444
Ecuador	1,710
Guatemala	978
Hayti	978
Ceylon	1,684
Mexico	6,020
Germany	11,875
Great Britain	18,346
France	6,835½
Denmark	1,584
Sweden	1,760
Japan	3,038

The generators that George Westinghouse is building to furnish electricity for the 93,000 incandescent lamps at the World's Fair are to be the largest in the world. One of them will operate 20,000 lamps. "The ordinary generator supplies but 2,200 lamps," Mr. Westinghouse said, "and most of them less. Our largest generator will supply 20,000 lamps, and most of the others will be of 10,000 lamp capacity each."

On the inland waterways, which traverse the World's Fair grounds from one end to another, there will be plying three kinds of boats for public use. These will be the omnibus, express and cab boats or launches. The omnibus boats will make regular trips around the waterways, stopping at each building. The express boats will make round trips without stopping, while the cab boats, with carrying capacity of four persons, may be hailed at any point and engaged for the trip or by the hour, as is a hansom cab.—Exchange.

The cobblers on strike are losing their heads. They now threaten to insist on their wages being doubled, if the increase they have asked for be not granted before Sunday next. The chances are that in the end they will be glad to return to work without any increase of wages at awl.

LOCUSTS.

Nov. 17th 1892.

Mr. Editor,

I am sorry to find that there is no truth in the rumour that reached me to the effect that Mr. Stuart Penington was about to lecture and confer with Mr. Reade and Dr. Munro on Locusts It will be a great disappointment to many besides myself. But could not the Committee of the English Literary Society get Mr Reade to deliver a lecture on the subject?

Allow me to say that I don't anticipate much good from the studies now pursued by Mr. Pennington and Mr. Wernicke in connection with that one-horse affair the Rural Society. We know already all that need be known of the summer manners and customs of these insects; what we want to know is what are their winter habits, and the whereabouts of their bed chambers. The facts we want to know cannot be got at by elaborating fanciful theories in a laboratory but, as Mr. Reade very truly says, by striking the Indian trail.

Yours truly,
Locus Standi.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The sun played an unpleasantly prominent part yesterday and most of our stout subscribers would have gladly hissed him off the stage. People in general, however, looked lively and contented and wore their new summer clothes. Last summer, in the dismal depths of the political and financial crisis, nobody could afford new clothes, and Prat was the saviour of society. Now, it is "infra dig" to be seen entering Prat's; and those who want to get a coat or hat touched up sneak in there after dark, and keep their back to the door whole standing at the counter. Such are the ups and downs of River Plate life

The National Senators turned up smiling yesterday, well up to the quorum point and voted, $86,000 extra to the War Office, but sent back to Committee the Bill asking a similar favour for the Home Office. "Nada mas."

There was a large crowd of sorrowing friends at the internment of Dr. George Newland's remains yesterday evening in the Recoleta Cemetery. Men of all nationalities were there, and sincere sorrow was visible on all faces. The post-mortem examination showed that the cause of death was disease of the lungs, both these organs being in an advanced stage of decay. His brother died some years ago from the same complaint. Peace to his ashes.

"Tartarin en Amerique" is given for the first time to-night at the Folies Forlet, and there will certainly be a crush.

Oh! Congress won't discuss the Budget till December, and the members will probably eat their C P.P. and turkey in town.

We regret to report a slight accident to Mr. E. Frank Barnes, the popular organist of St. John's Church, who, while handling a loaded revolver on Saturday last, was slightly wounded by its accidentally going off, the bullet merely grazing his chest and passing through to the fleshy part of his shoulder behind, without touching any vital part. So slight was the wound that he drove to the British Hospital at once and the doctor extracted the ball with his fingers. We join Mr. Barnes's numerous friends in congratulating him on his escape and hoping for his speedy recovery.

The Rev. Dr. Smith A.M. will preach on Sunday December 4th at 10 45 a.m. at Campana.

Mr. J. F. Gahan has started at 544 Calle Piedad as general commission agent, and he has such a wide connection and circle of friends that he is pretty certain to do as large a business as we wish for him.

There was a slight blaze in the office of our esteemed colleague the Operai Italiano yesterday morning in the small hours; but we are happy to say very little damage was done.

On Saturday afternoon, 19th Nov., a Cricket match was played in the grounds of the English High School, Paler no, between the School Club and the Young Men's Christian Association. The Y. M. C. A. scored in their first innings 13 and in their second 21. The High School in their first innings made 63, thus winning hy an innings and 29 runs.

In our advertisement columns we publish to-day the Programme of to night's concert, which takes place at the Barracas English Institute, Calle San Antonio 628. We hope our readers will emulate the example of Mr. Neumann, Florida 475, who has kindly lent the piano for this occasion, and do what they can to forward the work of this Institute by attending to-night at the concert and furnishing the sinews of war, of which the Institute is so much in need.

The proud and haughty Dons in this city were in low spirits yesterday at the ungrateful news that their fine country has come to the end of its financial tether. Nothing else could be expected. There is no talent for finance in the Spanish head, although it is shrewd enough at small trading and saving.

Skating before breakfast is now the "correct thing" in high life. Whoever wants to lose his head and heart should turn up at the Colombian Rink about 10 a.m.

The City Fathers met on Monday and began the week by voting a free "last home" in the Chacrita to the Circulo de Cronistas, the nicest and softest spot to be picked out for them, as the poor fellows have such a hard and hard-up life that they well deserve a specially soft place to lie in when they "shuffle off this mortal coil." The eternal question of forage for the Municipal Rocinantes cropped up again, and some persons unnamed are in fresh trouble. Councillor Raynelli enlivened the proceedings by an eloquent Apology for Rockets, almost as good as Prout's Apology for Lent; he said the recent decree against them was solely aimed at the Radical meeting on Sunday last.

Frost and severe losses of shorn sheep are reported from some parts of the South.

Somebody or bodies concerned have suddenly discovered that the spasmodic inspection of eatables and drinkables as carried on in this city is the greatest of farces. The other day the Inspector of San Nicolas parish had to impose $2,250 fines on sundry 50th glass gro-cers in that parish; and in Socorro and South Cathedral parishes the amounts were respectively $1,200 and $1,750. The whole thing is a humbug. Protection and "national industry" make adulteration inevitable, and it can only be stopped by turning over a Free Trade leaf.

Doleful railway news. The concession for a line from Venado Tuerto to Cordoba has been declared lapsed.

The measurement of Mr. Obejero's colony at Neuquen has been approved.

Commodore Ramirez has resigned the post of Gefe de Talleres de Marina.

Dr. Lucio Lopez has resigned as Commissioner to investigate the Land Office unpleasantness.

The number of bloody crimes in the city within the past few days has attracted general attention. The dreadful crime in Calle Bulnes on Monday was followed yesterday by another at South Barracas, where a gay Lothario in the employ of the Municipality there received a charge of No. 4 shot from a fowling piece discharged by a jealous husband; and, although he is not likely to die, his beauty is effectually spoiled for life, and he will have to retire from the Don Juan business permanently. Two or three attempts at self-murder were also reported yesterday.

We want to see or learn the address of Mr. Reilly, who advertized a month ago a new method of teaching Spanish in half no time.

The "vecinos" in Palermo must be passionately fond of the light of the future, as they have sent round the hat and got enough shinplasters together to light up Sarmiento Avenue all through the summer, if the Lord Mayor will allow them. Of course he will. Why not?

Cupid and Hymen seem to be rather busy just now over the water. The Uruguay News says:—

"The legal announcement has appeared of the approaching marriage of Mr. Edward Gillespie and Mrs. Humphreys (nee Helen Ross). Also that of Mr. Adolfo Eastman and Miss Constance M. Lowry. Mr. James Oldham and Miss Ritchie will be married by the civil judge next Tuesday, the 22nd inst., the religious ceremony taking place on Wednesday at the English Church at 12 o'clock. We hear that the wedding of Mr. Robert Kibbey and Miss Mary Agues Woods Loosmore will take place on the 3rd December."

Here's another bore story. "The Scythians," said Sydney Smith, "ate their grandparents when they became troublesome and told long stories." Who knows whether the Eumenides may not suffer a remnant of these useful Scythians to survive even unto our day, to be a terror to long winded fogies, male and female. I met at dinner recently an old fogy who I am sure has his Scythian waiting for him. He had been harrying the company with stupid remarks about natural history, asking questions, too, that would turn the stomach of a School Inspector. At length, in that peculiar tone of voice in which theological questions are uttered our fogy said. "Has an oyster brains?" "Certainly," replied our host: "for an oyster knows when to shut up."

The Rev. Mr. Handcock is about to enter the Montevidean Editorial Bus with a monthly periodical to be called. "The Montevideo Anglican Church Mag

He worked off a smile of supreme content
As he dropped in his easy chair,
A laugh from his classical lips he sent

ON 'CHANGE.

Tuesday, November 22nd 1892, Gold Premium.

FIRST RING..... 176 50%

SECOND RING..... 177.00%

The gold market ruled very steady all morning, although at a lower level than yesterday. About one million dollars changed hands at the first ring. Operations for cash embraced nearly four hundred thousand dollars; the premium opened at 175.50%, rose to 177%, and closed at 176.50%. A quarter of a million was sold for the end of the month at 175% to 176.50. Operations for the end of December were small; the premium opened at 173%, rose to 174.50, and closed at 173.50. A small business was chalked for the end of January at 170%. The speculation ruled dull all morning.

Patriotic Bonds were steady at 73.90 and 73.80. Internal Bonds rose to 69 for cash, 69.20 for the end of the month, and 69.70 for the end of December. Catalinas were dull; Cheques of the Provincial Bank closed this morning at 36 % discount, those of the National Bank at 10 % discount. Bonos of the La Plata Mortgage Bank closed at 20 30 % of their face value.

Dr. Cichero, son of Don Domingo Cichero, Lord Mayor of the Boca, has arrived back from Genoa in the Orione, having spent a year's vacation in Europe. In Genoa, he says, there is a complete River Plate reaction; everone seems in good spirits. Messrs Pollinini and Maccio, bankers, are doing a large business. The harbor is crowded with people arriving from the country and bound out for the Plate. Genoa has gained greatly by the late exhibition and the splendid Colombian fetes, and there is more business doing in Genoa to-day than in any other city of Italy. Dr. Cichero visited England, France and Germany and everywhere met River Plate friends; he passed the summer months in his father's delightful residence at Reco, on the Mediterranean, a few miles from Genoa. Dr. Chichero will now open his studio as a lawyer and settle down to business after his long travelling, and with the great relations of his father he will doubtless have ere long as many clients as Cichero himself. Don Domingo, who went down to Montevideo to meet his son, narrowly escaped drowning there, owing to the high gale and the difficulty in landing; the boat slipped from under him, but he held on to the ropes, and had about as great an escape as the late Saturnino Unzue 26 years ago when rescued from drowning by one of the editors of this paper. It is really wonderful how Don Domingo escaped, as the storm was great. Yet his escape four years ago from suffocation at the crater of Vesuvius was equally remarkable. He reports Montevideo completely gone to the dogs and no hopes for it. Bolsa deserted and 200 shops about to shut up to escape taxes.

La Plata advices report that on Monday at mid-day entered the Grand Dock the Italian s.s. Orione of the Navigazione Generale. She brought some 1,000 odd emigrants for these shores, all of whom left later for B. Ayres in an Ensenada train composed of 13 waggons. S. s. Myrtle Branch left La Plata on same day where she loaded some 25,000 bags grain for Messrs Bemberg. S. s. Ovingdean Grange, of the Houlder Line, was to leave on 22nd inst. for Rio with some 500 head live cattle which she loaded in Muelles y Depositos for account of the Rio Municipality.

Respecting the opening of the Monte Caseros Railway the Railway News gives the following:—"The Argentine North Eastern Railway Company have asked the sanction of Government to open the section of line between Monte Caseros and Paso de los Libres for public service from the 15th prox. The section of line is in the Province of Corrientes, and runs parallel with and at no great distance from the upper Uruguay, along the Brazilian bank of which river the Brazilian Great Southern Railway is carried. There will therefore be competition both by rail and river along the entire section, and the prospects of traffic can hardly be alluring. There is a 6 per cent national guarantee on a capital outlay of £6,100 per mile, the working expenses recognised for guarantee purposes being 50 per cent of gross earnings. The section connects with the East Argentine line at Monte Caseros, and is built on the 4 feet 8½in. gauge usual in the Provinces of Corrientes and Entre Rios. The length is 100 kilometres (62 miles.)"

The head military authorities having solicited the Government to set apart in the Neuquen territory a reserve of land for the army mounts, the Government passed the petition on to the Land Office for its consideration and report, with an addendum to the effect that it would be advisable to suggest in each of the national territories the reserves most appropriate for this object. The head office has accordingly set to work on the plans but advises the Executive to pass a law in order to completely guarantee these reserves against any future complications, stipulating at same time that the reserves may be increased to meet requirements.

The gold market ruled steady at the second ring, but speculation was dull About six hundred thousand dollars changed hands, the premium closing at 177% for to-morrow, the 26th, and the end of the month, and 174% for the end of December. Patriotic Bonds fell slightly, but Internal Bonds advanced to 69.90 for end of the month. Catalinas were neglected. La Plata Cedulas were steady in the vicinity of 33.

The following is a summary of the business effected at the second ring to-day:—

Operations in wool since yesterday are exceptionally active; prices, in spite of the fall in gold, have advanced. Fine good wools are taken up by French buyers at 8 to 9$ for Southern qualities and 7 to 7.50 for those from the West. Messrs. Lahusen and Co. have bought very heavy quantities of wool in the South, West and North of the province of Buenos Ayres. Messrs Devoto, Balbiani and Co. sold to-day a parcel of fine wool from Chivilcoy at 7.50$, a high price for wool from that quarter; they also sold 3,000 ox-hides, "epidemia" quality, at 5.40 to 5 50. Messrs. Wilkens and Co., of Antwerp, publish a circular attacking the wools of the River Plate; wool men state that there is no reason for the attack, as the wools in general of this clip are not bad; the clip is not uniform, but the bulk of the wool from the South gives fine yield, a fact that Messrs. Wilkens overlook. Advices received from Europe announce a firm tendency in the wool market. Cereals fell to-day; export of maize and wheat is nil.

Messrs. G. Kelsey and Co. sold today at the Central Market the following wools:—
